

Dr hab. Małgorzata Nitka

The M.A. seminar is addressed to the students interested in the British fiction of the 19th century and its historical, socio-economic, and cultural context. Areas of research may include the following topics:

- home, family, marriage in their orthodox and aberrant forms
- domestic and /or public sphere
- science, technology, industry
- work and / or leisure
- identity: class , gender, race
- identity: mind, body
- identity: self-help and self-deception
- urban and provincial environment
- sensation and crime, etc

Prospective MA theses may also focus on the analysis of specific literary forms or narrative strategies as exemplified by chosen texts.